About Scolution

Scolution develops as an independent IT-Consulter plugins for the Atlassian products. As we use the Atlassian products ourself, distribute them and consult our customers on them, we know exactly the needs and challenges that occur with the usage of the software. That's why we're trying to improve the user experience with our add-ons. If you want to learn more about our team or our work and performances feel free to visit us on our website www.scolution.de.
